Objective

The Candela Roam test uses the 802.11r Fast BSS Transition roam method to create and roam multiple WiFi stations between two or more APs with the same SSID on either the same channel or different channels. The user can run multiple roam iterations over extended durations, with the test measuring the roam time and average roam time for each station. The test can be conducted with different security methods, allowing users to compare roaming performance. By default, the pass/fail threshold for the roam time is set to 50 milliseconds. Additionally, a customizable roam threshold option allows users to adjust threshold values as needed.

Pass/Fail Criteria:

The following are the criteria for PASS the test :

1. The BSSID of the station should change after roaming from one AP to another.
2. The station should not experience any disconnections during/after the roaming process.
3. The duration of the roaming process should be less than 50 ms.

The following are the criteria for FAIL the test :

1. The BSSID of the station remains unchanged after roaming from one AP to another.
2. No roaming occurs, as all stations are connected to the same AP.
3. The captured packet does not contain a Reassociation Response Frame.
4. The station experiences disconnection during/after the roaming process.
5. The duration of the roaming process exceeds 50 ms.

Roam Time Calculation:

Roam time calculation measures the delay between the Reassociation Response and the subsequent Authentication Request within the pcap file.

Roam Time (ms) = Timestamp of Reassociation Response - Timestamp of Authentication Request

1. Below table is based on the roam time Pass/Fail criteria. For example, if a client roams from one BSSID to another and the process takes longer than the threshold roam time, it is counted as a failed roam.
